

09/19/2010

Dear Friends:

These are dire times. All of the countries children are resorting to crime, drugs and violence and out of the wombs of criminality gangsters and drug addicts are being born. Our children are on a one-way street to hell or jail. Those of us who love and care about them must rise up as never before. We must rush to their rescue.

Their only hope lies in our ability to recapture the righteous spirit and go out into the very dangerous streets of America and take a stand. With God on our side we shall boldly confront the kidnapers of our kids and take back what's rightfully ours. This call for action involves all races, colors and creeds - it is a call for an all-embracing and unconditional love for our children.

To view my Protocol for saving our children visit www.cedricdean.com and www.AboutSave.org and together let's spread the word.

God bless you and God bless our children.
Cedric Dean